Progress Report 4

So the goal has stayed the same since my last progress report, to still make a Clash of Clans dashboard for Clan Leaders so that they can use it to see the donation stats of their clan members. Nothing has super changed regarding that particular aspect, the goal of this project.

Since I am getting close to finishing, there is little to be said about the last two aspects of this progress report. It took me a while to figure out how to get a dashboard up and running, especially one that was not terrible looking. I used a software called Plotly, and they actually give you a ton of coding examples that you can glean from. So I chose a bar graph sort of figure since I knew that that would result in the best results. It was difficult to figure everything out, but I was able to get it up and running after one last 3 hour programming sesh.

As far as next steps go, there is only one. And I am about to do it after I finish writing this report. I need to modify the dashboard to better fit the clash data from the API so that I can feed the clash data into the dashboard and have it come out looking somewhat normal/helpful. I envision this to be the very last step of the project, along with making a few tweaks to make it look pretty and perhaps add a few features to make it look better and be more easily navigable. After that however, I am done!
